Treasure Brown

Design leadership & experience strategy.

Design Lead · Experience Strategy · Product Design · Cleveland, Ohio · Remote · treasurebrown16@gmail.com

Design leader with experience across product strategy, product management, interaction design, and research. I help teams make sense of complex customer and business problems, decide what is worth building, and turn that direction into thoughtful, scalable products.

Experience

Happy Money

2021–PRESENT

Design Lead, 2025–present · Product Manager, 2024 · Senior Product Designer, 2021–2023

- Led the bank-linking experience redesign, helping members reconnect accounts without rebuilding autopay; the team's changes increased completion 9.7 percentage points, from 53.2% to 62.9%.
- Designed HIVE, Happy Money's loan participation platform, from onboarding through remittance and established its component library. The platform has supported $199M+ in participations without a redesign.
- Reframed Happy Objects 3.0 as infrastructure for scale and AI-assisted development, moving eight production experiences onto shared primitives and eliminating approximately 9,000 lines of one-off styling.
- Led customer identity strategy and a build-vs.-buy evaluation, then designed one-time-code and magic-link authentication that removed password creation from offer selection.
- Designed and launched partner and servicing experiences under tight operational and compliance constraints, including a five-page insurance flow delivered in one week and HELOC referral surfaces that reached 3.22% CTR in week one against a 3.00% plan.
- Manage and mentor one product designer while contributing to design direction, critique, planning, and cross-functional decision-making.

frog design

2020–2021

Interaction Designer

- Shaped the product vision for a connected auto-injector ecosystem, owning research synthesis, concept development, user flows, interaction design, motion, and the narrative used to communicate the future experience.
- Led the integration of loan and membership applications for a white-label digital lending platform, incorporating usability findings and contributing to a system supporting five integrations and 17 usability enhancements.
- Defined onboarding and bite-sized debt-payoff behaviors for Stretch, an early-stage fintech venture taken through limited launch.

Earlier experience
